

Publication: Mobile Business
Date: 01 June 2006

Wanting the Web

■ Wanting the web

A MORI survey commissioned by InfoGin suggests one in three mobile phone users in Britain want to surf the web on their mobile phones, but only if it is like the true internet (and not WAP). To date only 11% of UK mobile users have browsed the web from a phone, against 28% worldwide. InfoGin has a neat web-to-mobile adaptation solution.